

Mr. LEUNG Hoi Kwok, Edward

Chief Economist
Hong Kong Trade Development Council

Education

Mr. Leung graduated from the Chinese University of Hong Kong in 1974. He majored in Economics and was awarded the B. S. Sc. Degree. He continued his further study at the same university and was awarded the M. Phil. Degree in 1977. Besides Economics, Mr. Leung had also studied Law. He was awarded the L.L.B. Degree from the University of London, and was admitted as a Barrister-at-Law by Gray's Inn of England. Mr. Leung was also admitted as a barrister in Hong Kong and Canberra.

Professional Experience

Mr. Leung is now Chief Economist of Hong Kong Trade Development Council (HKTDC), responsible for the research function of the Council. Before joining HKTDC, Mr. Leung was Senior Economist of Export, Finance & Insurance Corporation in Australia. Mr. Leung has considerable experience in the financial sector, as he had been Chief Economist of Standard Chartered Bank and Bank of East Asia. Mr. Leung is currently the Pacific Economic Outlook Forecaster of the Hong Kong Committee for Pacific Economic Cooperation, a member of the Transport Advisory Committee of the HKSARG and a member of the Port Development Advisory Group of Hong Kong Port Development Council.

Publications

Mr. Leung is the co-author of several books and has contributed to various academic and professional journals.